Client Bill of Rights

You have the right to:

- ◆ Be treated with respect and dignity.
- ◆ Have full information regarding the limits of confidentiality and with whom and under what circumstances the counselor/advocate may discuss your case.
- ◆ Experience a safe setting, free from physical, sexual, and/or emotional abuse.
- ◆ Choose your own lifestyle and to have that choice respected by staff/advocates at the Rape and Abuse Crisis Center.
- ◆ Disclose only the personal information you feel comfortable with and to refuse to answer any questions, if you choose.
- ◆ Have access to the records the Rape and Abuse Crisis Center keeps about your case when legally possible.

Our goal is to provide caring and sensitive services to victims of personal violence. If you feel dissatisfied in any way, or feel your rights have been violated by any Rape and Abuse Crisis Center staff/advocates, there is a process available for you to make your concerns known. You can find out about this process by asking to speak to the Director of Program Services or the Executive Director.
